

PADI Wreck Diver Speciality Course

The PADI Wreck Diver course introduces the diver to wreck diving. This course is designed to develop skills and gain knowledge required to enjoy safe and fun wreck diving. The course is exciting, fun and adventurous, as you will visit underwater wrecks, unlock mysteries and gain the necessary knowledge and experience needed to see detail and things other divers will normally overlook. The PADI Wreck Diver course teaches the diver unique ways to enjoy rewarding and responsible wreck diving.

The PADI Wreck Diver Speciality course will familiarize the diver with the skills, knowledge, planning, organization, procedures, techniques, problems, hazards and excitement of diving and exploring the Cape Town wrecks.

The purpose and goal of the PADI Wreck Diver Speciality Course is to achieve the following:

- To learn new techniques and expand your knowledge on wreck diving
- To recognize and avoid potential hazards, and planning procedures that makes wreck diving fun
- To gain knowledge about the historical value of wrecks, and give explanations about these historical values and the social and legal issues surrounding them
- To be able to describe some of the implications surrounding wreck diving, including the pros and cons of removing artifacts from wrecks
- To be able to plan and organize dives and explore wrecks in a safe and responsible manner
- To be able to explore wrecks in conditions better or worse than those you have been trained in
- To be able to identify the hazards of wreck penetration diving, and to practice the techniques and procedures required to minimize or avoid those hazards
